TRIBUTE TO "UNCLE JOE"

The following tribute to J. H. "Uncle Joe" Peeples, veteran Glades County legislator, was paid him by John Kilgore in the Tallahassee Daily Democrat in his column, Point of Personal Privilege on Monday, April 21.

"Representative Peeples of Glades, the beloved 'Uncle Joe' of many sessions, is one of the biggest men in the house. He is not only big outside—tall, wide and thick, with a massive head topped by a shock of grey hair over a weather-beaten face—wrinkled upward in the lines which spell good-humor and kindness—and with leathery hands as big as picnic hands—but he is big inside, too—Everybody respects and admires 'Uncle Joe' and when he advocates a point or a measure it is hard to refuse him—One of the finest men in or out of the legislature and one of the legislature's most effective members—A cattleman and the champion of all cattlemen, he has protected his industry as no other living man has—He is not only an orator, or parliamentary maneuverer but with the force of his strong personality and his warm human qualities."

—More Haven Democrat.

THE PEOPLE WIN

Through the efficient leadership of Governor Holland the people of the state of Florida have won a victory over the racing interests. Not without a stiff fight, however.

The senate in voting 24 to 4 in favor of the Governor's recommendation to levy a five per cent tax on horse track betting to raise money for old age pensions showed that our elderly citizens had a place nearer the hearts of those supporting the bill than do the gambling interests that come and go with the seasons.

The bill when it becomes law, will, in the judgment of the Governor produce sufficient revenue to pay each pensioner $25 a month instead of the meager $12 per month under present regulations. This could be done to our old people and will, by the same token, be a boon to business. The money our old people receive as pensions will be spent with home business people.

Race-track interests will not suffer any privations because of this tax. They get a splendid takeoff each season from this source. Nor will betting be reduced by this measure. Pools will gamble; gambling on races seems to be a favorite diversion with the sporting class. The large money on races, of course, is put up by the wealthy sporting class that follow the races. The home people who wager money on races are on the smaller try.

Thus far, Governor Holland has shown splendid qualities of leadership, and members of the legislature that are following that leadership are showing respect for the constituency that sends them to Tallahassee. This was not intended as a blow at racing, and is not; it is simply a measure of the spread of the profits that accrue to race promoters—Verso Beach Press Journal.

THE ENGLISH TONGUE

When the English tongue we speak
Why is "break" not rhymed with "trick"?
Will you tell me why it's true
We say "saw," but likewise "few."

"Mould" is not pronounced like "could."
Wherefore "done," but "grime" and "lime,"
Is there any reason known?

Summary of Legislative Activity

By Clyde J. ...
Fla. News Service Staff writes

Tallahassee, May 8.—With the legislature at the half-way mark, it has become apparent that practically all of the center-right legislation has been worked over, revamped and through a system of give-and-take and compromise have had all the explosive removed from them.

Of course, it is difficult to say in advance that both houses of the legislature will agree to and accept the taxation recommendations, shop and that he believed all bills made this week by Governor citizens' union and non-union. Holland said the past four weeks should have equal opportunity for both sides. He said that any opposition arising from public funds at the which threatens to work the problem some time the attorney general gave some form of compromise declared that he believed in the will be worked out which he believed in the bill.

The house of representatives has a brilliant display of fireworks during the last three days of last week, but the protechnics were caused by Attorney General Watson's open shop bill and in no way involved the administration. The governor's program of delegates of the Florida Federation of Labor at Tampa in March that he was opposed to the closed shop, and the American labor committee. The fight started when the labor committee reported the bill unfavorably, and representatives favoring the bill tried to bring it before the house for action regardless of the report. The veto was 34 to 33, but the bill on the calendar, which was four votes less than the 35 needed under the two-thirds rule.

The American committee in said to be ready to reject the bill favorably, but Speaker Dan McCarty has ruled that the labor committee's report prevents a bill from going on the calendar regardless of how the American committee reports, and his ruling has been sustained by a vote of 80 to 4. Later attempts undoubtedly will be made to get the bill before the house, but proponents will have to do a lot of head-scratching if they figure out a way in which it can be done.

Activities this week centered around Governor Holland's taxation and finance recommendations. Last week the legislature cleared the way for speedy action on the Governor's proposals by throwing out two major changes which had been proposed in the state legislature, one proposing a constitutional amendment allowing the state to increase the tax on second providing for the abolishment of ad valorem levies. A group of rates tax bills also were thrown into the discard.

A bill creating a promotion and parole commission, authorized by a constitutional amendment adopted at the last election, was proposed by the house judiciary committee last week. It would set up a parole commission, with terms of two, four and six years. Members would be prohibited from participating in any other business, and would receive salaries of $4,000 per year. It would have the power to grant paroles to convicted persons and supervise their conduct while on parole. Before a convict could be eligible for parole, he would be required to serve at least half his sentence, except those having life terms who would be required to serve the entire term before applying for parole. An appropriation of $75,000 annually to finance the commission has been asked.

Old age pensions held the spotlight for a time last week. The committee approved Governor Holland's bill levying an additional 5 percent on betting at horse race tracks. This bill had previously passed the senate. It is estimated that this additional five percent, plus the "odd-cents" levies, also approved by the house will provide an additional $82.5 per month for the 37,701 persons now on old age assistance rolls. Representative Kimball of Pinellas county introduced a bill which would take the "odd-cents" break from the dog track for old age pensions. He estimated it would produce about $300,000 a year.

Ad Representative Kimball of Bradford county introduced a bill signed by 58 representatives, appropriating $2,000,000 annually for old age pensions. He said that Governor Holland's old age pension program would not become effective until next year. Other highlights of the week were: the agreement reached by various citrus groups on a unified program, which eliminated another controversial issue; the bill raising fees for drivers' licenses from 50c to $1 was reported favorably by a house committee; a state-wide no-fence law was called in a house committee on public institutions delayed action of the proposal to establish a hospital for mental cases at Avon Park, and the county commissioners of Polk county rallied to its support. The senate by a 21-1 vote approved a bill taxing and regulating billboards along the highways. Authorized by the Garden Clubs, the senate approved a bill which authorizes the state barbers' examining board to fix minimum prices and maximum hours in counties where a majority of the barbers request it; and a house committee reported favorably a senate-approved bill prohibiting state officers from running for another office without first resigning the office they hold.

Watson's bill had been referred to two committees: the labor committee, and the American labor committee. The fight started when the labor committee reported the bill unfavorably, and representatives favoring the bill tried to bring it before the house for action regardless of the report. The veto was 34 to 33, but the bill on the calendar, which was four votes less than the 35 needed under the two-thirds rule.

WOULD TAX SLOTS
Tallahassee, Fla., May 8.—A slot machine legislation bill, with a license of $15 a year and the state getting 25 per cent of each machine's "take," was introduced in the house Tuesday by Representative W. P. Chavous of Dixie.

Chavous also introduced a bill to legalize and tax punch boards, which he said recently a gambler had won about $3,000,000 annually for old age pensions and the state government.

Speaker Dan McCarty sent the bills to the finance and taxation committee.

Slot machines were legalized in Florida by the 1935 legislature, but the law was repealed in 1937.

MAINTAINING TELEPHONE SERVICE STANDARDS

As America's giant for national defense, the Southern Bell Company's aim is not only to meet the increasing telephone demands of government and industry, but to continue rendering high quality service to the individual user.

Despite the necessity for training numerous new employees, and caring for a record increase in telephones and volume of calls, the service has generally continued at a high standard.

Telephone men and women are continuing to furnish friendly, helpful and technically efficient service.

These trained and experienced workers and their management are accustomed to working together and to planning ahead under conditions imposed by emergencies.

The workers, while meeting the rapidly expanding defense telephone requirements, are caring for the needs of the individual user in every way they can under existing conditions. The telephone organization is doing its best to see that during these times of national emergency you continue to derive the greatest possible advantages from your use of the service.

fifteen; while the girls marked up nine for their high point leader in Marie Stokes, followed by Agnes Graden and Mary Frank Branch with eight points each.

The high point winners of each boys and girls group was presented with a special group prize ribbon at the regular assembly program to day at the school, by the principal.

The events enjoyed at the school were: Chinning, potato race; three-legged race; Discus throw; Basketball throw; Basketball Relay; one-legged race; rope climb; standing broad jump; relay race; and one-fourth mile run.

The quarter mile run was the climax of the afternoon's program when Wilber Geffer finished with a good lead over Jeff Fowler and James Latham in Group three boys. In group four boys 1000 Pumpernickel, Lynwood Jenkins and Roy Pope finished in the order named, with small margin between the winners.

The field day program went along with clockwork precision with all indications that the events were well planned in advance.
